Lilydale Primary School's The Lilydale Legend

Thursday 5th September

Issue Number 102

Proud of our Past Educating for the Future

Dear Parents, Carers and Children,

I would like to say that the last week has been a quiet one at school, however, you know that is not true.

The students have been getting on board with Silver September (thanks for all your loose change!) and we have been using the money to help with our daily numeracy teaching. It usually takes a few days to start to see the silver amount climbing. Once this happens there is a last-minute rush for change. I am letting you know now that you may be asked for your change next week!

I would like to thank the following parents for their hard work in organising a lovely Father's Day gift for the fathers and special people in our students' lives, Kelly Dohle, Erin Reiter, Tracey Paterson, Ellen Courtney, Nat Fairweather, Casey Pyle, and Samantha Sweet. I am sure that those recipients enjoyed their coloured sugar in their Sunday tea and coffees.

This week we have the grade 1/2 skating afternoon and sleepover. A great way for students to build interdependence before they attend a real camp in the future.

Next week we have our Art show. The choir will be singing at 2.20pm followed by the afternoon show between 2.30-3.30pm in the Art room. Thank you in advance to Mrs. Kennedy for her work in organising all the students and their artwork.

We also have a week planned where my focus is on staff wellness and wellbeing. In the short time, I have been here I am amazed at how hard all staff work to make the school the best possible environment it can be for our young people. Please feel free to send a note, email or drop by to tell teachers and ES staff how grateful you are for the work they undertake day in day out.

There will be no assembly this week due to Hoop Time and the 1/2 Skating/sleepover.

Planning for 2020

At present we are looking at our class structures for 2020 and a timeline to allocate students into their new class. We require parents who are enrolling prep students for next year to enrol as soon as possible and/or families who are looking at relocating. This would really help us out with our planning and organisation of grade levels.

I wish you all a wonderful weekend.

Best wishes,

Craig Bradley
Acting Principal

The Extend Superstar is...

Sammi ... For her enthusiasm and courage in trying new things on smoothie night. Sammi encouraged everyone to try the green smoothie and made everyone see how yummy it was. Great job for leading the way Sammi!

What's Been Happening?

This week we have been very busy at Extend!

This week we were busy making chatterboxes for dads and special people for father's day. Inside were special dad jokes which we hand selected for our special person to make them have a laugh this Father's Day!

We also tried our hands at making a green smoothie with passionfruit, mango, cucumber and spinach. To everyone's surprise it was delicious. Due to the sleepover this week after school care will be situated in a classroom in the BER building. Holiday care is now open to book and we have a poster up showing all the great things we have planned so feel free to come and have a look!

Giving "No!" a Break

Have you ever noticed how many times you say "no" to your kids in a day? "No you can't have that cookie." "No, you can't play on your iPad." "No, you can't stay at your friend's house." Sometimes it's just easier to say "no" than to think of alternatives but is it the best way to communicate your message? What if you could choose words that connect you to your kids and give them opportunity learn from their behaviour?

OK, sometimes "no" is the best and only word to use – like when your child is about to do something dangerous – but "no" often skips a step in human interaction, letting the other person know that you understand them. What about instead of saying no you send a message like "I get what you're wanting but I've got a limit, a boundary." It might look like, "I get that you're hungry but dinner isn't far off and your tummy has to have room for it. Cookies have to wait".

Try also instead to use words with information. That is, instead of telling them "No" – what not to do - try telling them what to do. Instead of "No, we don't do that" try "At the table we sit on our bottoms". Kids value reasoning just as much as adults do, "no" lack explanation.

No matter what age we are when someone sternly says "no" our reaction will be to shut down or to push back harder leading to power struggles. Taking a break from "no" opens opportunity for learning and guiding. Changing "No, we don't say that to people" to "I can see that you wanted space, what could you have said instead?".

We can still be clear and provide limits and boundaries without a whole lot of nos. It's not easy to change, it takes intentional practise, but it is possible and as a result you'll have a child who knows that yes, I have boundaries, but I also know that my parent understands me.
